What Is A Bicentennial?

According to careful Clarksburg class reporters, our students are well informed. The following questions were asked in various interviews and confirmed these convictions.

Reporters: Burt Moody, Lynn Breiden, Lisa Tegethoff, Tony Unstead, Jena Blount, Karen Taylor

Q. Why did George Washington cross the Delaware?

A. "John was after him."
Joe Lewis

Q. What does it mean to revolt?

A. "To vote again."
Ricky Simpson

Q. What is a minuteman?

A. "A man who reads the minutes at a meeting."
Jesse Tucker

Q. If you had lived 200 years ago, who would you have been?

A. "Benjamin Franklin, because I like shocking experiences."
Jeffrey Giech

Q. Who made the flag?

A. "Uncle Sam made it out of his striped underwears."
Bonnie Flanagan

Q. Where did John Hancock sign his name?

A. "On the bathroom wall."
Jesse Tucker

Q. How did Paul Revere make his living?

A. "He ran a message parlor."
Billy Roy Hampton and Pete Kelly

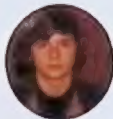

Q. What is a bicentennial?

A. "When the country is old enough to draw welfare."
Joe Lewis

Q. What is a Tory?

A. "An agent for the CIA."
Brenda Wall

Q. Who threw the Boston Tea Party?

A. "Steve Austin. Who else could have lifted it?"
Liam Giech

Q. What blabber mouth told that the British were coming?

A. "Bradley Simmons, no doubt."
Teresa Hollowell

Q. When does the Liberty Bell ring?

A. "At 3:00 in the afternoon."

*Happy Birthday
U.S.A.!*

Our second national birthday is more symbolic than simply its birth and the passing of a two-hundred year period. This celebration also symbolizes achievement and growth, reminding us of the past that shapes our present, and gives hope for a productive future.

The 1976 Senior Class Prophecy

AS SEEN BY THE 1977 SENIOR CLASS

In the future, DAVID McCLURE will become known as the King of the soap-box derby.

SHERRIE WAUGH will be confronted with the question, "Have you ever been tempted?"

RANDY BLANKENSHIP will be the Olympic gold medal winner for having the biggest mouth and the largest P. A. system.

RENI VAUGHN will be a contestant in the World's Shiest Person Contest where she will win first prize.

IVAN HODGE will have a factory of his own making lavender soap.

BECKY DAVIS will invent the crew-cut permanent for the U.S. Army.

VELMA JOHNSON will be the creator of Johnson's Johns.

In the future, KERRY DON LAWS will be the sneak champ of the world if he stays sneaky.

RICKY VAUGHN will have his own weight-lifting shop called "Bug Tussell's Muscles."

KAREN TAYLOR will wrestle her way to square dance fame yelling A-L-R-I-G-H-T.

GARY REED will make his own box cars at Westport.

In the future, ANITA FLOWERS will have her own bug factory called "Nita Bug's Bugs."

BARBARA TUCKER will be the CLARKSBURG GAZETTE editor while her husband is shortstop of the year.

JERRY ADAMS will be the new "Cousin It" of the Adams Family.

CINDY CISCO will have her own lard factory in the future called "Cisco's Crisco."

ROGER TUCKER, alias Abbie, will become the jet set editor of Dear Abby.

LENITA PRUETT will build her own factory in the future producing B.O.

HAROLD ORR will perform the magic trick "now you see it - now you don't" while eating.

TERESA McDANIEL will crush orange flavored Big Mac's for a dairy bar.

RICKY CARY will build his own funeral home at Westport.

PATRICIA BAUCOM will be another Edgar Allen Poe, but she will write about the crow instead of the raven.

DAYNA BRISCOE will become a veterinarian and dogs will be mechanical.

MIKE PINKLEY will be a member of Jacques Cousteau's crew and go on an odyssey to the Mediterranean.

ANGIE HODGE will build her own trailer factory called the Vanishing Point.

In the future, DONNIE HUNLEY will create pickle-shaped tires for his hamburger-shaped car.

In the future, VELDA ALLEN will be known as Mrs. Snowball Express.

MIKE PHELPS will be the number one man in the Air Force, but his sergeant will be a lady.

The Last Will and Testament of the 1976 Senior Class

I, DAVID McCLURE, leave Carol McClure Miss Sarah's answer book so she can cheat in bookkeeping, and my go-cart to Mr. Newmon so he can go around the school next year.

I, GARY REED, leave Mickey Grant my ill manners and vulgar vocabulary, and Mr. Newmon my little black book to use on those wasted days and wasted nights.

I, KAREN TAYLOR, leave Elvis Umstead my fear of guns and knives, and especially my fear of men from Mars.

I, HAROLD L. ORR, leave my place at the front of the lunch line to Beverly Tucker, and my style, grace, charm, knowledge and table manners to James Earl Kelly, and my old American history tests to the sophomore class.

I, VELMA JOHNSON, leave Doris Boyd my quiet nature, and Archie Parker my new pair of red tennis shoes.

I, BECKY DAVIS, leave some of my curly hair to Peggy Vaughn.

I, DONNIE HUNLEY, will Mickey Milam my cheat sheet on Shakespeare, and Mr. Jackson a list of senior confessions because he will never catch us.

I, RENI VAUGHN, will Judy Blankenship my used bookkeeping workbook which is incomplete, and Mr. Crum my typing ability so he can type all his history papers so his students can at least have a chance to de-code them before a test.

I, ANITA FLOWERS, leave Dana Milam my spirit to chase her on the basketball court.

I, CINDY CISCO, would like to leave Barbara Boyd my ability to stay out of trouble, but I don't have that ability.

I, MIKE PHELPS, leave Kevin Reilly my dumbness so he can stay out of trouble on Halloween night.

I, MIKE PINKLEY, leave Sharon Hedgepath my unused English workbook and my favorite seat in geometry class, and Mr. Harris my knowledge I forgot in his ag. class and a longer broom for chasing birds in his classroom.

I, LENITA PRUETT, leave Judy Simpson my platform shoes to wear in her wedding so Lathan won't have to kneel to kiss her, and Mrs. Jennifer Vestal my cheerleading uniforms.

I, IVAN HODGE, leave Jeff Bolen a size 12 shoe so he will be almost equal to Billy Ray, and Mr. Burton my clean mind to use whenever future geometry classes discuss other subjects besides geometry.

I, RANDY BLANKENSHIP, leave Annette Bartholomew my ability to thoroughly aggravate the teachers at Clarksburg, and Pam Todd my favorite seat in the Shack and an empty Boone's Farm bottle.

I, ABBIE TUCKER, leave Tim Taylor my swiftness on the basketball court.

I, TERESA McDANIEL, leave my size 5 shoe to Billy Hampton and my spirit to haunt him if ever he dares to fake a hurt ankle again.

I, RICKY VAUGHN, leave Dave Chabot a new pair of coke bottle glasses.

I, PATRICIA BAUCOM, leave Doris Boyd my broken down locker.

I, ANGIE HODGE, leave Phillip Lewis a pair of my clogs so he won't have to stretch his neck to kiss his girlfriends, and Hodge's Grocery contract with the Coca-Cola Company to buy TAB at discount to Miss Sarah, before she goes bankrupt.

I, RICKY CARY, do hereby will Archie Parker just one chance to run the big hearse down Red Top Bottom.

I, BARBARA TUCKER, bequeath all the test answers that I have collected to Bev Tucker with the hope that he will graduate, and all the fun and frustrations of being an editor to Pete Kelly.

I, DAYNA BRISCOE, leave Gena Blount my used English workbook in hopes that it might help her next year.

I, JERRY ADAMS, leave Terry Jordan my ability to beat Cecil's pinball machine.

I, VELDA ALLEN, will the knowledge to stay out of bookkeeping to Ronnie Breeden.

WE, TERESA McDANIEL and ANITA FLOWERS, leave Mr. Newmon our ears to sit in his office and keep him company.

The Editors

The Great High School Hard Sell

CHEERLEADERS - As Mrs. Jennifer Vestal cheered, the saddle-shoed wonders began reaping in profits from suckers, by selling them. Penny candy was sold for three cents, but who could resist a cheerleader?

CHALK-STUDIO - Sure, they're expensive, but wasn't your face worth it? Most seniors thought so, and paid $30 to $100 for pictures.

GAMES - To watch athletes do their thing is expensive. During the basketball season, the price was $1.00. The juniors scheduled one last game - to be played while riding donkeys. The smell was ripe; as was the price: $1.25 to watch.

BALFOUR - Size and color of ring stone determined the size of Dad's check. Juniors and seniors paid dearly to let everyone know they made it.

ROCKET - For only $6.25, students bought all the memories and experiences that happened during the year, complete with cover. However, there were no profits, as all money went for printing the yearbook.

HERFF-JONES COMPANY - Seniors made quite an investment in name cards, memory books, thank-you notes, graduation announcements, and the ever-popular senior class keys.
